U.S. REBUFFS MILITARISTS IN REJECTING BID TO GENOA

"No Use While Europe Refuses To Cure War Ravages"

ITALY NOTIFIED

Big Standing Armies Known To Have Caused Declination

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 9.—The United States has declined the invitation to participate in the Genoa conference.

Washington, March 8.—The United States has declined the invitation to participate in the Genoa Conference was the decision transmitted to the Italian ambassador.

The position of the American government is that participation at this time in a general open economic conference is impossible owing to complete failure of any European nation to adopt measures for remedying the ravages of war and insuring the stabilising of their economic life.

The attitude of the administration with regard to the Genoa conference was determined only after many conferences, at each of which it was pointed out that the participation of America in the conference would be distasteful to large sections of American public opinion, first, because American participation would be equivalent to recognition of Soviet Russia, and second, because it would give tacit approval to the policy of European nations in maintaining enormous armies when the money expended on them is desperately needed in reconstruction work.

Natives Shot By S. African Strikers

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 9.—It is reported from Johannesburg that the general strike is very limited in extent and that there are at present no signs of its growth. The campaign of intimidation has intensified in the mines owing to the necessity of concentrating the police in the center of the town, where a number of men are working, but two mines have been temporarily closed down.

New commandos are being formed from the fresh men available in consequence of the general strike. There have been further cases of blowing up the railway. A portion of one commando attacked some natives with revolvers, killing two and wounding three.

The executive of the Industrial Federation has issued an imperative notice ordering the instant cessation of wanton attacks on the natives.

Council Elections On March 16 And 17

For the nine places on the Shanghai Municipal Council for the new year, but ten names are mentioned. They are:

Messrs. S. Fessendon, A. J. Hughes, V. G. Lyman, G. N. Wilson, H. W. Lester, W. P. Lambe, A. M. L. Lowson, H. G. Simms, G. N. Wilson, S. Sakuragi.

The candidates have given their consent to serve if elected as councillors for the foreign community of Shanghai for the Municipal year 1922. The election will be held under Article XIX of the Land Regulations, on March 16 and 17.

Mr. S. B. Neill, the only nominee of the registered land owners is conceded the election to the office of land commissioner for the Municipal year 1922.

EMIGRATION BANK

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 6.—Mr. Kuo Tze-yun, Director of the Emigration Bureau, has submitted to the Government the proposal to establish an Emigration Bank in China, in order to assist Chinese overseas by direct exchange with the countries in which the Chinese abroad are residing. Mr. Kuo pointed out the advantages to Chinese trade of reducing exchange rates to a minimum. The proposal has been referred to the Ministry of Finance.

Joffre -- Winning The Peace

By

Captain Bruce Hopper

(This editorial is reprinted from yesterday's EVENING STAR. Captain Hopper, now a member of the STAR staff, served throughout the Great War, first with the French and later in the American aviation corps.)

IF MARSHAL JOFFRE goes to America, as the personal guest of Mr. Samuel Hill, he will lend his ultra-sympathetic influence in a needed place for the present phase of the Allied cause—winning the peace.

On July 14, 1919, Marshals Joffre and Foch led the veteran armies under the Arc de Triomphe, the most stupendous Victory parade of all time. Allied solidarity was then firm, and seemingly unshakable, even though leaders of the peace conference had not always been in strict accord.

Since that memorable day Allied solidarity has received some rather severe jolts. In Europe the governments of the major Allies have found their countries need different degrees of application of the peace terms. America, through her Senate, rejected the peace terms entirely, and the Covenant of the League of Nations as well. To get back to common ground, and make that Allied solidarity as strong as when it defeated Germany, is the goal of all statesmen who think and see clearly. If the Allied solidarity is wrecked then will the tragedy of Europe be indeed tragedy.

It is recalled that Marshal Joffre, in company with Mr. Balfour, visited America for the Allied cause in May, 1917. His mission then was: "Help us win the war," as his mission now would be: "Help us win the peace."

America was thrilled by the visit of the Hero of the Marne. The German submarines had concentrated to sink the French and British missions, so their very presence in America had the glamor of danger for a cause.

CONGRESS had declared war on April 6. But neither the government nor the people were fully aware of the urgency of the call. Marshal Joffre and Mr. Balfour spoke in many cities, and took a conspicuous part in the First Liberty Loan drive. The grand old poilu greatly impressed the popular imagination by his calm seriousness. He embodied the appeal of France for speedy succor, for munitions, for ships, and above all for men to fill the gaps in the trenches.

Marshal Joffre aroused spontaneous sympathy in America as no man did before, or since. And the fullness of the response came in the spring of 1918, when the Germans were pounding hard on Montdidier and Amiens. At that time Americans were landing on French soil at the rate of 300,000 a month, thanks to the British navy. And the German High Command knew it. Against that ratio of monthly increase, which could have gone on to the extent of eight million men, Germany could not even hope. Papa Joffre got what he asked for.

The spirit of Allied solidarity was then growing. It remained for the detached American voice in the Supreme Council, General Tasker Bliss, to clinch the long delayed push toward unity of command. And when Marshal Foch became Generalissimo of all Allied armies it seemed that the day of divided counsels had gone, that the Allies were to march in step to victory, and yet thereafter in the peace.

BUT they haven't. At least the governments have developed post-war nerves. Nationalism has intensified in every country to kill the spirit of Allied solidarity. By international thinking, similar to the united counsel in war, Europe may recover. But if the Allies do not march together there will be neither peace nor recovery.

Everywhere the Die Hard breed shout the national ego. In France the Die Hard nationalists are those who would occupy the left bank of the Rhine, maintain a large army in Germany, and refuse to lighten the load of immediate indemnities. Briand fell under the axe of Die Hardism.

In Britain the Die Hards are the obdurate Tories, who would refuse real self-government to Ireland, and deny to France the Security Pact. Lloyd George's threatened resignation, and the possible defeat of his sane program for Europe, shows where the Die Hard axe would fall in Britain.

And in the United States the Die Hards are croaking themselves hoarse to defeat the Washington treaties, whereby America would insure peace in the Pacific, and assist Europe to recover at Genoa.

Either Die Hardism is gathering strength the world over, or it is becoming more articulate. It is the poison to international thinking. It takes the selfish slant on the great human problem of Europe, a problem which challenges the finest brains, and the utmost generosity of all nations.

IN winning the peace the major Allies have stood for divergent methods. America has stood for no method, except for relief work, held back now, as before she entered the war, by her own traditions. The Allies have their traditions, and honor them. So with America.

Americans who think internationally hold that the money loaned to the Allies to carry on the war was part of our contribution to the cause. Well, maybe. But who is bold enough to stand up and say: "I am unselfish."

Yet the Allied cause and unselfishness and America are somehow linked. There were many sacrifices. No man can give greater impetus to this curative thought than Marshal Joffre. He is to the American heart the epitome of soldierly devotion, and kindliness. Although he is weary from traveling, and he has traveled far, it is to be hoped he will accept the invitation to America, there to strengthen the cause of the liberal minds who realise duty in a badly stricken world.

And whether his mission be winning the war, or winning the peace, the American people will give freely of their hearts and their goods to their favorite soldier—the Grand Old Poilu.

But let all put themselves in the mood of giving. Nobody has the hardihood to stand up before the world and say: "I am unselfish." Yet there is no single individual in this world who has not on some occasion been just that. The thing now is for all to get together and admit unanimously that we are unselfish. And then perhaps we may be. Anyhow, we can all agree that Marshal Joffre, throughout his life has been unselfish. And certainly there is no one of us today who wouldn't like to have walked in his shoes throughout his life.

Frenchtown Ablaze With Color In Honor Of Joffre; Public Reception Today

Thousands March In Brilliant Lantern Parade, With Foreigners And Chinese Participating; Ceremony At Municipal Building This Afternoon

With an outturning of people, perhaps unprecedented, with seas of banners whipping the breeze in every roadway and illuminations of a scope truly magnificent—and also with a spirit of reverence and homage—Shanghai is paying honor to Marshal Joffre who will be the city's guest until Sunday when he sails for America.

A pageant of lanterns, spectacular and gorgeously colorful, and a brilliant dinner at the French Club were the concluding features of yesterday's crowded program of events. Today's principal events will be the formal public reception for the distinguished visitor, which will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the French Municipal Buildings, and the dinner in the evening to be given for him by veterans of the world war.

GREETED BY OFFICIALS

The opening affair of Marshal Joffre's visit was the tiffin yesterday that was given at the French Consulate by M. Wilden, French Consul-General. At this welcome was given to the aged warrior by officialdom generally, as members of the consular body and Chinese officials were invited guests.

Following the tiffin Marshal Joffre paid a visit to the noted Catholic seat of learning, Aurora University where he was received by the Jesuit fathers. After leaving the University Marshal Joffre went to the Franco-Chinese Institute of Industry and Commerce.

It had been announced that the lantern procession would start at 7 o'clock from a point near the French park, but hours before this time the streets of the line of march began to fill and long before dark the main arteries of traffic were congested with masses of expectant humanity.

The procession, one vast spectacle of light, set out from the great illuminated arch wherein is reproduced the entrance to the Bastille at the corner of the French Park. Before it moved out through the streets of the French Concession Marshal Joffre rode slowly in an automobile along its entire length and he is quoted as having expressed a full measure of surprise and appreciation, voicing the opinion that the scene was altogether unique.

THRONGS REWARDED

The packed ranks of hundreds of thousands of Chinese that filled the streets of the line of march and the thousands of foreigners in automobiles and afoot who had waited through the hours for the appearance of the procession were well rewarded for their pains. Just at nightfall a hint of rain in the air that became perceptible was a source of some little apprehension but when the moving river of light turned into Avenue Joffre all menace of adverse weather had vanished and, in fact, the chill in the air had passed with a mounting temperature.

With the crashing strains of martial music the colorful stream coursed and welled along between its human banks sweeping on toward the business section of the Settlement. In the van were ranks of soldierly Annamite police in characteristic garb and following were statuesque lancers, then long detachments of uniformed Chinese youths of the French schools. At close intervals the blazing centers of light rolled along in the form of monster decorated floats.

TARS IN LINE

French tars from their warcraft in the harbor came in other detachments and with them literally thousands of other uniformed figures, prominent among which were the numerous detachments of members of the various fire departments, for in doing honor to Marshal Joffre, not only the French Department appeared, but also those of the International Settlement and Chapei. From one end to another Avenue Joffre was a blaze of light and mingled with the crashing of the bands of music and the cheers of the myriad onlookers were the reports of sharp salutes of gunfire while showers of brilliant lights were hurled into the heavens from Roman candles and skyrockets set off from the moving floats.

In many ways, of course, the spectacle was reminiscent of past great observances here of France's National holiday, for in staging these all of that wonderful ingenuity for spectacular display that is peculiar to the French had been given full play. It may be said, however, that in the pageant that was unfolded last night everything of like character that has been undertaken in other years was dimmed and surpassed.

NOTABLE SCENES

Particularly notable were many of the historic floats picturing as they did in all grim reality scenes of the war, and it is to be added that nothing short of remarkable achievement was brought about in the artistry and beauty with which many of the fire equipages were decorated.

Dear to the heart of the Oriental in time of festival and show—and perhaps a bit commonplace—are the sinuous man-borne dragons, but even in these, last night's spectacle achieved distinction, for in the blazing current were to be seen writhing monsters of surpassing horror that gnashed their teeth and weaving huge heads from side to side blinked incandescent eyes eerily.

ZOO ON PARADE

No savage of the jungles has ever seen nor has ever student of natural history dared conceive anything approaching the wonders of the animal kingdom that lurched through Frenchtown's streets with the procession—some with menace in their movements like the dragons, some utterly ludicrous in austere or demure appearance as, for example the specimens of 20-feet tall denizens of the barnyard, and others particularly noteworthy for artistic presentation. And all had the characteristic of reality, a factor enhanced by the use of colored lights. One huge beast bore aloft a glimmering beacon in the tip of his tail.

The procession was perhaps one of the longest Shanghai has ever seen as the entire pageant could not be witnessed in less than an hour. While the armies of spectators were mobilising all traffic on the important thoroughfares was halted even hours before the procession started and it was all of an hour after it had passed before the seething streams of humanity had drained away through the cross streets sufficiently to permit rickshas and street cars to move.

The dinner at the French Club last night was given to Marshal Joffre by the French residents of Shanghai. It was an affair more or less unique, not only in the distinguished character of the guest of honor, but in the size of the assemblage and particularly in the wonderful spirit manifested—a spontaneous outburst of ardent patriotism of a kind rare to be seen.

TRI-COLOR FLOATS

Over all the Tri-color floated, the outstanding predominant feature, and throughout the spacious quarters of the Club every effort had been expended and all the varied resources of the city had been called upon in the matter of gorgeous decoration. Outside, the building and its approaches shone with uncounted thousands of lights.

The formal address of welcome was voiced in eloquent terms by Mr. H. Madier and M. Wilden, Consul-General also was one of the speakers. In soldierly terms the great warrior spoke to his people. Marshal Joffre told them simply that he appreciated the welcome that Shanghai had given to him.

Today Marshal Joffre is to be the guest of the Chinese authorities. The affair will be in the nature of a tiffin party that will be given at 12:30 noon at the Bureau of Foreign Affairs. One of the sentimentally interesting events of his visit to Shanghai will follow, for it will give to Shanghai a living memento of Joffre's historic visit. This will take place at half past 2 o'clock this afternoon when Marshal Joffre will plant a 'Liberty Tree' in the French park and it is particularly significant that the students of the French schools will attend this ceremony.

At 4 o'clock Marshal Joffre is to lay the cornerstone of the new annex of the Franco-Chinese Municipal school. The formal public reception will take place at 4:30 o'clock and the dinner being given by veterans of the war at 7:45 o'clock at the French Club.

Tomorrow's program will be as follows:

10:30 a.m. Marshal Joffre will visit Siccawei.

12:45 p.m. Review of Shanghai Volunteer Corps on the Bund.

1:00 p.m. Tiffin by the Shanghai Municipal Council.

Marshal Joffre is to sail on Sunday for Seattle on the Admiral Line steamer Silver State.

Joffre To Work For Peace On Forthcoming U. S. Visit

By a Staff Correspondent

Peking, Mar. 7.—Next to joining his troops under fire on a battlefield, the most hazardous thing a famous general can do is to make a tour of the Orient. China and Japan have a way of killing distinguished guests by kindness of leading them from reception to presentation ceremony, from one banquet to another banquet, of allowing six hours a day for the consumption of food with speeches, and about an hour and a half for sleep. Anyone who succeeds in completing such a tour deserves all the orders of the Striped Tiger that he is awarded on the way, and a medal from the Physical Culture Society besides. He also merits the order of the Rising Sun, that being the time that he is usually allowed to go home.

Papa Joffre has hazarded his life under fire; now he is making a soldierly effort to stand up with equal gallantry under the heavy bombardment of food and entertainment provided by his Far Eastern hosts. When the Marshal first entered the Hotel de Pekin to the dislocated strains of the "Marseillaise" as tormented by a Chinese brass band, he seemed a worn old man almost too weary to salute.

VERY TIRED

"I am very tired," were his only words to the correspondents who crowded around him. He has repeated them many times since, despite heroic efforts to appear as sprightly as his almost unmerciful entertainers demand. The perpetual glitter of gold lace, the continual interchange of flowery and inane remarks, and the necessity of traveling always with a long line of official motor cars upset the even trend of life that Papa Joffre would choose to lead if he were not under the necessity of being the feted guest.

In China Marshal Joffre has been essentially the soldier. He has made to our knowledge no public appearances out of uniform. He is surrounded always by officers in horizon blue, by Chinese generals of multiple decorations. His uniforms have lacked the spruceness of a newly-fledged officer—his red trousers are often baggy and his jacket is hardly a perfect fit, but at least he has always appeared as a man of arms.

TO BE HILL'S GUEST

In America, where he is to travel as the guest of Mr. Samuel Hill, Marshal Joffre will lay aside his uniform and tour the country as an advocate of universal peace. Mr. Hill, Quaker and railroad magnate, saw the dramatic possibilities in the appearance of one of the greatest and best beloved of soldiers as a warrior against war. He therefore journeyed to Paris especially to invite the hero of the Marne to undertake the tour. Marshal Joffre, an old friend of Mr. Hill's consented to pay the visit after his journey through the Orient, and the famous railroad man is here waiting to sail with the Marshal on the Silver State.

After reaching Seattle, Marshal Joffre will formally dedicate "The Portal of Peace," built by Mr. Hill at Blaine, Washington, on the Canadian boundary line to commemorate the long decades of peaceful relations between Canada and the United States. Practically every arch of heroic dimensions, Mr. Hill says, has been built to celebrate a victory in war; the portal at Blaine is dedicated to a victory of peace. At the occasion of its completion on September 6, 1921, it was visited by more than 20,000 people. The flags of Great Britain, the United States, Belgium and France hang on the Atlantic side of the portal and those of Great Britain, Japan, the United States, and France on the Pacific side. Included in its structure are some of the original timbers of the "Mayflower," recently discovered in England and presented to Mr. Hill by the British Quakers.

WILL OPEN HIGHWAY

On the occasion of dedicating the Peace Portal, Marshal Joffre will also open the great 2,000 mile Pacific Highway that runs from British Columbia to the Mexican border. Mr. Hill who fathered the Good Roads Movement in America and built the picturesque Columbia Highway, has given years to the creation of a paved road running the entire length of the Pacific Coast states. His dream has been realised at last, and Marshal Joffre will be the central figure of its fulfillment. The rest of Marshal Joffre's program in America will consist of visits to the principal cities in the name of peace and good roads, which, Mr. Hill believes, are the strongest possible contributors to enlightenment and prosperity.

During his stay in Peking, Mr. Hill has been the center of almost as much attention as the Marshal himself. Whitehaired, strong-featured, and of a commanding personality the famous American Quaker bears such a close resemblance to the Marshal that he has frequently been mistaken for him. He combines the vigor our mind of a Roosevelt with the enlightened pacifism of a William Penn. He has built railroads, served as president of twenty-five corporations, fostered public libraries, and has been the friend of leading men of affairs in all parts of the world. During his visit to Japan, he was awarded the Third Order of the Sacred Treasure in recognition of his services to the East as well as to the West. Mr. Hill first visited Japan twenty-five years ago with his famous father-in-law, James J. Hill. He has offered to both China and Japan any assistance he can give to the cause of good roads.

Though "Papa" Joffre may enjoy his visit to the East, no doubt one of the most pleasing moments of it will be when he discards his uniform for mufti and puts himself under the kindly guidance of his Quaker friend, Sam Hill.

MAIL NOTICE

Mail will be despatched from the American post office to America, Canada and Europe, via steamer Silver State on March 12. Registers close at 6 p.m. on March 11; ordinary closes at 8 a.m. on March 12. The Silver State in due at Seattle, Washington on March 28.

U. S. CHAMBER HERE MOVES FOR CHEAPER PASSPORTS

Letter Sent To Consul General Cunningham

NOW COST G.$20

Comparison Made With Britain's Fairer Laws

The American Chamber of Commerce has launched a fight against the drastic—and expensive—passport regulations now in force, and with which all traveling American citizens who do any traveling must comply. Yesterday a letter was sent to Consul General Cunningham, with a request to him to take up the question with the State Department at Washington with a view to bringing about an adjustment of the present regulations. In the Chamber's letter the excessive cost of American passports, as compared to the amount called for under British law, was brought out clearly. The letter follows:

March 8, 1922.

Hon. E. S. Cunningham,
American Consul General,
Shanghai.

Sir: At a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the American Chamber of Commerce upon written complaints submitted, careful consideration was given to what seems to be the present unjust and unwarranted regulations regarding the conditions under which Americans must apply for passports.

If a passport has expired and it is desired to renew same the regulations require an application and the payment of Gold $10, after the expiration of ninety days (the time necessary to send the document to Washington and have it returned) we are handed the passport.

A TRIP TO HONGKONG

If in the meantime a trip to Hongkong, for example, is undertaken, it is necessary to apply for an emergency passport which will be promptly issued by the local Consulate but only upon payment of another Gold $10 or Gold $20 in all.

Emergency passports are issued conditionally upon the holder's applying at the same time or having applied for a department passport, and are only intended for use pending the receipt of the Department passport from Washington.

Ten Dollars is a high price to pay for a passport which, at best, is reduced in its expiration date by two months and the additional payment of a similar amount seems rather an unwarranted expense.

In this connection I take the liberty of drawing your attention to the fact that local British residents can secure passports from their Consul General for the equivalent of Gold $2, such passports being valid for two years and renewable for four further periods of two years each upon payment of a fee equivalent to G.$0.50 for each such subsequent renewal. These passports being issued by the local British Consul General no emergency passports are required as is the case with American residents.

URGE REDUCTION

It is our understanding that the present drastic regulations were placed into force to make all Americans abroad to prove beyond all reasonable doubt their American citizenship. It is believed that all citizens who have secured a passport since the inauguration of these regulations should now be enabled to obtain passports good for a period of two years and renewable for further periods of 2 years at a fee not to exceed G.$2 for the issuance of such passport and a fee of G.$0.50 for each renewal.

In view of the foregoing, it is respectfully requested that the views of this Chamber be brought to the attention of the Department of State.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) D. J. Lewis.
Secretary.

PROHIBITION DOES PROHIBIT, W.C.T.U. MEMBERS TOLD

Dr. G. A. Huntley Cites Statistics To Prove Affirmative

That prohibition really prohibits was the theme of a paper read yesterday before the Shanghai Branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Union Church Hall by Dr. George A. Huntley, M.D. Dr. Huntley cited figures from various American cities and states, as compiled by Senator Jones, of Washington.

"The chief cry of the opponents of prohibition, he said, is that prohibition cannot be enforced, but Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington delivered a speech in the senate which shows that even partial enforcement of prohibition is producing most startling effects.

"The decrease in the number of arrests for drunkenness is perhaps one of the greatest proofs of the effectiveness of prohibition, especially when we remember that formerly a drunken person was arrested only when he made himself obnoxious but now drunkenness itself is a misdemeanor.

"Reports from chiefs of police in 51 largest cities of the United States, including New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and cities of that size and former degree of wetness, and with a total population of over 20 millions, show a slump in arrests for all causes from 960,603 in 1917 to 851,103 in 1920. The total arrests for drunkenness in these cities in 1917 were 307,108. This was cut to 108,835 in 1920, or almost 65 percent of a decrease.

"In Ohio four workhouses have been closed and there are 10,000 fewer inmates under prohibition than under license. In Pittsburgh Warden Lewis reports that in 1918 there were 14,684 prisoners committed to the gaol, in 1920 only 4,712. Mayor Smith of Louisville reports a decrease of 84 percent in the prison population in the first year of prohibition.

"Compare these results under what is admittedly imperfect prohibition to those in England where the conviction for drunkenness in 1920 showed an increase of more than 65 percent over those of 1919.

"Commander Evangeline Booth tells of the results of prohibition as seen by the workers of the Salvation Army.

"'Who better than the Salvation Army' she rightly asks, 'can speak of the blessed results of the banishment from the streets and the hovels of the poor of this liquid fire and distilled damnation?'

"'Our social secretaries tell us that drunkenness among the men frequenting our hotels and industrial homes has almost entirely disappeared; that men who previously had not enough money to pay their way from one day to another, now have money in the bank.'

"Peoria, Ill. was formerly known as the Whiskey Capital of the world and the opponents of the drink traffic prophesied that Peoria would be ruined if the eighteenth amendment became law. The fact is that Peoria is doing business as never before, bank clearing since the coming of prohibition have increased $20,000,000.

"According to figures presented by the National Coffee Roasters' association, increase in consumption of coffee has been 21 percent under prohibition. This means an increase of 100 cups a year for every person in the United States. Too much coffee, of course, is not beneficial, yet we have not heard of a man spending his week's wages for coffee, as they used to for booze."

Annual Meeting Of Union Club Today

The annual meeting of the Union Club is to be held at the club rooms in Foochow Road this afternoon, and as American participation in the affairs of this organisation has not been as enthusiastic as the committee desires it is hoped that there will be a full American representation at this meeting. The American committee nominated by the Chamber of Commerce consists of Messrs. V. S. Lyman, O. G. Steen and Paul P. Whitham.

On March 17 there will be a tiffin for American business men at the Union Club, at which Messrs. Julean Arnold and L. W. Hoyt will be hosts. It is expected that about 150 will be present. At this tiffin there will be a discussion of ways and means to further American co-operation in Shanghai and the Orient.

Bad Year For The Meatpackers, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—The report of the Chicago packing firm of Messrs. Armour and Company describes last year as the most disastrous in the history of the packing industry. The fall in meat prices and high costs resulted in a loss of G.$30,000,000, which was met from the accumulated surplus.

The firm's reserves on January 1 amounted to over G.$60,000,000.

Mr. Armour is of the opinion that the worst is over and that there is every reason to anticipate better times.

White Australia Failure, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—The South Australian Premier, Mr. Barwell, who is at present in London, has written to the Times, supporting his previous declarations of the necessity of the modification of the "White Australia" policy. He is convinced that if colored laborers were taken to Australia under the indenture system, there would not be the slightest difficulty in confining them to tropical areas. He declares that the attempts to develop the Northern Territory have been a dismal failure, and that the population has decreased 25 percent in the last thirty years.

NEW IRISH PACT NEAR APPROVAL IN COMMONS

Army Maximum To Be 30,000, And Perhaps Less

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—The final stages on the discussion of the Irish Treaty Bill were reached in the House of Commons today, when Mr. Churchill said that the highest strength of the Irish Free State Army would be thirty thousand men. It would be composed of regulars and territorials, but the quota would be proportionately less if Ulster stayed out of the Free State.

The third reading of the bill was carried by 295 votes against 52, after a motion for its rejection had been negatived.

London, March 8.—A thousand Irish Republican Army troops have arrived in Limerick, where the situation is unchanged.

The hopes of a peaceable settlement have been strengthened by the arrival of the Provisional Government's Minister of Defence, Mr. Mulcahy.

Negotiations with the insurgent section of the Irish Republican Army are proceeding.

London, March 8.—That there is an improvement in the situation in Ireland was indicated by a speech of the Lord Chancellor in the House of Lords, in which he said that there was every reason to believe that public opinion in Ireland was consolidating itself behind the Provisional Government, and that this tendency was hastened by the high-handed and lawless acts committed by the recalcitrant section of the Republican Army.

The Lord Chancellor asserted that the Provisional Government's authority was now recognised over the greater part of the South of Ireland, but that in two or three districts in the State there was complete dissatisfaction in consequence of the Republican military forces.

The Provisonal Government, he said, was sanguine however, that after a short time it would be strong enough to deal with the situation.

He acknowledged that the situation still gave cause for anxiety, but it was gratifying to know that the former opponents of British rule felt it their duty and responsibility to put down the avowedly Republican movement.

TARIFF COMMISSION

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 6.—Admiral Tsai Ting-kan has petitioned the Cabinet to appoint as Vice-Chairman of the Tariff Revision commission Mr. Hsu Yuan, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs at Shanghai. Admiral Tsai points out that he will have many affairs to attend to at Shanghai during the meetings of the commission and that Mr. Hsu is well qualified to assist him as Vice-Chairman.

In A Pickle

MRS. Winifred Kramer, of Los Angeles, is in a distressing predicament. Her husband lies in the hospital seriously wounded. According to the police, he was shot by Mrs. Kramer's mother, who was jealous of sharing her daughter's affections. Mrs. Kramer is torn between love for her husband and her mother, but is aiding the authorities in every way.

Russian Arraigns Chinese Students As Selfish Theorists

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, March 8.—The Peking Teachers College for Women heard a lecture by Mr. Elreshinke, the famous blind Russian poet, on "The Mission of the Intellectual Class" Saturday. He arraigned them as selfish theorists. The auditorium was crowded with Chinese students who listened with the greatest interest. He spoke in English, his talk being interpreted into Chinese by Mr. Chu Shih-ying, professor of the People's College.

Mr. Erloshinke attacked the Chinese intellectual on the ground that he never lived up to the theories which he professed to believe and was always ready to let someone else do any self-sacrificing that was necessary. The Chinese intellectual, said the Russian poet, was invariably willing for the next man to play the martyr and advocated that he should, but was himself always on the watch for the comforts of life regardless of the radical theories which he might hold.

With this attitude Mr. Erloshinke contrasted the work on the intellectual class in Russia, giving them high praise for the success of the Revolution. He spoke of the self-sacrifice on the part of the Russian communists who made the Revolution a reality and pointed to their example as one which Chinese intellectuals might look up to.

CHINESE EASTERN PRESIDENT QUITS, MAY BE GOVERNOR

Wang Hai-ping Slated For Fengtien Post, Report

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Mar. 6.—Mr. Wang Hai-ping has resigned the position of President of the Chinese Eastern Railway. There is further confirmation today of the reports that he has been offered the post of Civil Governor of Fengtien and that Mr. Yeh Kung-cho will become President of the Chinese Eastern Railway. Discussions with these objects in view are continuing as part of the attempt to bring about an agreement between the Chihli and Fengtien Parties. The main question at issue, however, remains unsettled. General Chin Hua, Chief of the Peking new Gendarmerie, returned from Mukden yesterday morning and had an interview with the President shortly afterwards. No official information regarding this interview has been disclosed, but in unofficial quarters it is stated that General Chin informed the President that General Chang Tso-lin very firmly insists upon the resumption of the Premiership by Mr. Liang Shih-yi. It is hinted that an agreement may yet be reached with General Wu Pei-fu on this subject although General Wu has given no indication of a change of policy in his stern opposition to Mr. Liang. How far this assumption is justified there is no opportunity to judge, for the most important negotiations are taking place outside the capital. Public feeling, however, is gradually taking a less gloomy form.

Obituary

MISS ELSIE M. GARRETSON

Miss Elsie M. Garretson, of the American Board Mission at Foochow retired on the evening of March 4 and died suddenly in the night. Neither sickness nor pain apparently was her experience. It is thought her passing away was as she would have had it because she had been fearing of late that she would have a long spell of sickness and be burdensome to her friends.

Miss Garretson had reached the ripe age of seventy-five and had spent forty-three of these years in mission work in China. During the past few years her work has been among the women, especially with the wives of the preachers and members and she will be greatly missed by large circles of loving friends. A large company of friends consisting of foreigners and Chinese followed the remains to the American Cemetery where the body was laid to rest.

Peking Newspaper Sees Unification

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, March 6.—According to an optimistic story in this morning's issue of the Peking Jih Pao, unification of North and South is becoming a possibility. The paper states that the mission of Dr. Wu, the Cantonese vice-minister of foreign affairs, to General Chang Tso-lin has been successful and that a solution of the North-South question has been worked out.

The approval of Tsao Kun is now all that is necessary and Dr. Wu is said to be going to Paotingfu to exchange views with the Chihli leader as soon as the Fengtien conference is over. If General Tsao welcomes Dr. Wu's proposals the latter will then return to Canton and prepare for the unification of the country.

The nature of this solution of the problem of unification is necessarily not divulged in the vernacular paper, but it states that the North will yield on questions of fact while the South will yield on questions of law.

Secretaries At U. S. Legation Shifted

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 7.—Among the transfers of American diplomatic representatives announced at the beginning of the second year of President Harding's Administration are two which affect the American Legation in Peking. Despatches from Washington, D. C., have reached the Legation that Mr. Henry I. Dockweiler, second secretary, who is now on furlough in the United States has been transferred to San Domingo, where he is to be secretary of the American Legation.

Mr. Ray Atherton, second secretary at the Legation and acting first secretary during the American Minister's absence, is promoted to a post in the Department of State at Washington. He expects to leave Peking for the United States sometime in May, after the return of Dr. Schurman from his trip to the Philippines and consular posts in China.

Peking Police Ask Bonds For Back Pay

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 6.—General Wang Huai-ching, Chief of the old Peking Gendarmerie; General Lu Chin, Commandant of the 9th Division; General Tso Feng, Commandant of the 16th Division, and General Hsueh Chih-hung, Superintendent of the Metropolitan Police, in a joint petition to the President point out that during the financial crisis at the end of last year the Cabinet promised to devote $1,000,000 from the salt funds for the payment of arrears of salaries of the police and troops in the Metropolitan Area, but that the Ministry of Finance has not paid over the money or any part of it. They therefore request the President to allocate for that purpose $4,000,000, worth of bonds from the $96,000,000 issue, on which they themselves could raise the money for the payment of the troops and police without delay. It is believed that some arrangement on this line will be made as the temper of the police and troops has not improved with the delay.

Foreign Banks Hit By Failure Of N. Y. Brokers

(Reuter's Service)

New York, March 9.—A statement, although hitherto unofficial, of the affairs of the New York firm of exporters and importers, Messrs. ## Soldier Ridden Province Mourns Honest Rubber

(China Press Correspondence)

Chengtu, Feb. 16.—Another grisly trophy adorns the gate of the governor's yamen. It is the head of the bandit chieftain Chang Seng-t'ing who preferred to live and die as an "honest robber" than become a "thieving soldier."

Such is the message he is reported to have sent to the commander of the troops sent to gain his submission to the government. Chang is one of two bandits who have been taking toll from the Penghsien and Shihfang districts. The other is called Fai Mao-chi.

To save wear and tear on the troops, the punitive force was instructed to offer both immunity and commissions in the army if they would come into the fold. Fai readily agreed and was made a captain over his ragged levies. But Chang was of sterner stuff and sent in his defi.

Using Fei's men as stalking horses, the lair of the recalcitrant was surrounded and he was killed. As the people do not approve of the soldiery at best, Chang dead, is a hero and may in time be made a semi-deity by the country folk.

Agree On Plan To Allocate Cables

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, March 8. — Mr. Fletcher, the acting Secretary of State, as chairman of the International Communications Conference, presented to the ambassadors of Britain, France, Italy and Japan plans for the distribution of all former German cables.

It is understood that it is proposed to divide the cables into five equal parts on the basis of their present commercial value, with a monetary compensation to the power receiving a deficient allotment, where an exact division is impossible.

The acceptance of this arrangement depends largely on the attitude of France, as apparently the other members of the conference are agreeable to it.

Hunt Club Challenge Cup Features Card At City Track Tomorrow

Paper Chasers' Old Fixture Will Test Best Of Cross Country Ponies

The year's classic of the Shanghai Paper Hunt Club, for track events, will be decided tomorrow with the running of the Club Challenge Cup, a steeplechase which will take the ponies from over Morriss Water Jump twice around the course and in, a gruelling run, which will try the speed and endurance of Shanghai's best hunting mounts, as well as the skill of the riders at high speeds.

The race is a comparatively old fixture for the Club, having first been mooted in 1893 when a meeting of members of the Paper Hunt Club, held at the Shanghai Club formed resolutions providing for the event. Conditions provided that the event must be won three times in success by the same pony, the absolute property of the same owner before becoming actual ownership of the trophy was awarded.

In 1893 conditions provided that a miniature cup valued at $50 should be awarded the winner of the year's race. In 1899 another cup valued at $100 was provided for a two time winner. In this year's event the value of the miniature is $200, with a cup valued at $400 to the winner provided it has already won the race for two successive years under the same ownership.

The Challenge Cup has been won outright four times first by Mr. J. S. Fearon's Vaquero (1895-97) ridden by Mr. Read on the three occasions; later by Mr. A. W. Burkill's Bonaventure (1901-03), Mr. Burkill riding the first two years and Mr. Moller on the third occasion; again in 1909-11 by Mr. C. R. Burkill's Chehalis, the owner riding each year, and lastly by Mr. E. S. Benbow Rowe's Bornite (1914-16), also ridden by the owner. Last year the race was won by Mr. J. A Hayes Tigr. and in 1920 by Mr. B. D. F. Beith's Springie. Neither of these ponies are entered this year.

But seven ponies are listed to start in the Challenge Cup race tomorrow: Liability, Letchfield, Rob Roy, Giant Killer, Tussore, Wiltshire, and Henry. The first two named are possessed of the better track records, and are likely to go to the post as favorites for the event, though other ponies, Rob Roy, for instance have enviable cross country records, and are certain to give good accounts of themselves.

The meeting tomorrow lists nine events of which four are steeplechases. Fields on the whole are small, as compared with some of the Race Club meetings when thirty to eighty ponies are entered for the various events. The card includes aside from the Challenge Cup race a steeplechase for griffins, a "Beer Stakes" for heavyweight riders and for ponies that have been ridden through at least two hunts by heavyweights during the past season, and other events with the ponies graded according to the performancez this season.

Chefoo Cits Beat School At Soccer

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, March 4.—The Settlement soccer eleven beat the C. I. M. team on the latter's grounds here Saturday in the second football match played here this season. The score was 2-1. It was the Settlement's second win over the Scholastic players.

The weather was more favorable than a week ago when the first match was played, and a good crowd turned out. The game was well played throughout, a draw score would have been a better indication of the teams' strength. One of the Settlement's goals should have been saved but the School goalie failed at the crucial moment to get the ball away.

Paris-Nice Auto Racers Are Off

Paris, March 3.—Out of sixteen light cars which left Paris to Nice fifteen completed the first stage to Lyons, a distance of two hundred and ninety miles. They leave Lyons on Friday morning on the second stage of their trip Nice to Marcielles, a distance of two hundred and five miles.

Rail Teams Will Meet On March 18

The annual football match between the S. H. R. R. C. and the S. N. R. R. C., scheduled for Saturday, will be postponed until March 18 because of the visit in Shanghai of Marshal Joffre. Most of the team members are busy entertaining the French military chieftain.

S. V. C. Notes

The Field Artillery Battery monthly cup competitions will take place at the Rifle Range tomorrow morning between 7 and 9.

For Marshal Joffre's ceremonial parade the Battery will muster at the Drill Hall at 11:45 a.m. tomorrow, Drill Order with decorations. The parade will dismiss about 12:45 at the Gun shed.

An event of the year in the Battery will be the annual dinner dated for Saturday at the Union Club. A good after-dinner program is promised by the entertainment committee.

The replacement of the old saddles with the new lot that came out with the howitzers has been effected this week, and should not only make riding and driving safer but cause a considerable reduction in repair bills. An adeptation is being tried out with the idea of using the remainder of the new equipment pending the arrival of the missing breast collars.

ATHLETIC MEETS FOR MAY

An athletic meet for all China will be held in Nanking at the end of May, according to present plans. This meet will be in connection with the recent decision of the All China Athletic Society to prepare to enter the Olympic Games to be held in Paris in 1923.

GYMKHANA AT PEKING

The Peking Paper Hunt Club is holding a Gymkhana on the Race Course on Sunday the 12th. There will be the usual flat races, Steeplechase and Camel Race.

Week-end Football Has Two Important Matches Scheduled; Maybe Others

Scottowe Cup Replay And The Final In S. V. C. Tourney Fill The Card

Important football is scheduled for over the week end. For Saturday there is the replay in the Scottowe Cup semi-finals between the Police and the Football Club "B" at Hongkew and on Sunday the final for the new Fraser Shield, for S.V.C. Teams, between the Machine Gun Company and the Shanghai Scottish Co. on the S.F.C. Field.

League football for tomorrow is a blank. There may be several other friendly matches, but with the annual meeting of the Shanghai Paper Hunt Club on the Race Club, any match besides the Scottowe cup replay will have to be played at Hongkew, and then only two matches in all may be played.

The Scottowe play holds first interest. The Police and the Club played a close match in the last round, and are certain to fight it out on strong lines tomorrow for the right to meet the Public School in the finals. The edge, it would seem from discussion with football fans, seems to lie with the Police, but the Club seconds are working hard at the game right now and may put as good or better game than last time and win their way through.

The School is the only team that has played consistently into the finals. They beat the Engineers, the second division runners up, in the first round in easy fashion, to the surprise of local talent and repeated in the semi-final play against the fast Recs first by a still wider score. The winner of tomorrow's match between the Police and the Club "B" will have their work cut out for them when they tie up with the school boys in the final.

Sunday's football will be for the championship of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps. The Scots and the Gunners of the S.V.C. are billed for the final of the Corps tourney on the Football Club grounds at the Race Course, commencing at 3 p.m. A collection will be taken for the Sir Arthur Pearson Memorial Fund.

NORTH CHINA AT KAIFENG

The athletic meet for North China will be held about the middle of May at Kaifengfu. In addition to the competitions held in former years there will be tennis matches and basketball matches.

BRITISH ARMY CHIEF IN INDIA FEARS TEST SOON

Lord Rawlinson Says No Further Cuts Are Safe

(Reuter's Service)

Delhi, March 8.—A sensation was caused in the Legislative Assembly by a speech delivered by the Commander-in-Chief, Lord Rawlinson, in replying to criticisms on the military expenditure. He pointed out that the Army in India has been reduced by 9,000 men since 1914.

He declared that no further reduction was possible at present owing to the seditious propaganda amongst the population and the troops. He would consider further reductions when United India showed loyalty and devotion to the British Empire. He expressed fear that the ability of the Government to maintain law and order would be seriously tested at a not distant date.

In the debate on the military budget in the Legislative Assembly, the majority of the speakers attacked the proposed expenditure. Mr. Gour, leader of the Democratic Party, demanded a reduction of twenty percent of the revenue in accordance with the principles, which, he said, had been enunciated at the Brussels conference.

Otherwise, he threatened that the party would use its constitutional powers and arrest the progress of the budget.

The general tone of the debate showed that Lord Rawlinson's speech had stiffened the non-official Indian opposition to the budget. Bitter disappointment was expressed at his uncompromising attitude.

Sir William Hailey, in winding up, emphasised that the deficits of the last four years were due to the Afghan and other unforseen wars which had cost twenty five crores, and the transference of the central revenues to the provinces under the reform scheme. He declared that the estimates could not be reduced.

After consulting the Provincial Governments the Indian Government has telegraphed to Mr. Montague in connection with the Allied discussion of the Near Eastern situation, which opens at Paris on March 22, emphasising India's war services and urging the revision of the Treaty of Sevres and providing for evacuation of Constantinople and recognition of the Sultan of Turkey's suzerainty over the Holy Places.

PORTUGUESE IN SHANGHAI PLAN AN ORGANISATION

Promoters Send Invitations To All Nationals Here

Active plans have been launched by a group of leading members of the Portuguese community of Shanghai to form an organisation along the lines of the British China Association and the American Association as it is thought—in the words of the announcement that has been issued—that "we are sorely in need of such a representative body to foster and defend our interests, and to make representations to the Home Government as occasion arises on all matters concerning our rights and general custom in the Far East."

It is particularly emphasised that ladies are asked to align themselves with the object in view and it is planned that two ladies shall be elected to places on the Executive Committee of the new organisation.

The movement to form the new organisation has been launched as the outcome of several recent meetings and the present purpose, following issuance of a general invitation to join that has been sent out to Portuguese, is to hold a general organisation meeting on a date to be announced later.

Those who are particularly active in support of the project are Messrs. F. F. Leitao, E. A. de Garcia, J. J. de Souza, J. Nolasco, J. M. B. Remedios, J. M. P. Remedios, J. A. Remedios, J. M. C. de Souza, E. S. Carneiro, I. B. de Senna and C. E. L. Ozorio.

SENTENCE TOO SEVERE

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 7.—In the House of Commons, replying to Mr. Raffan, who drew attention to the ten years rigorous imprisonment imposed upon the Tamil, Sinivisan for robbing rickshaw pullers of a few shillings, Mr. Churchill undertook to obtain the Governor's report, and added that he understood that the accused was guilty of three robberies, two of which had been accompanied by assaults.

Cat And Dog Fight As War Substitute, Szechuen Suggests

(China Press Correspondence)

Chengtu, Feb. 16.—Let their pets fight it out and spare the people the horrors of war!

Such is the novel solution proposed by Szechuenese for the situation that brought fear of new civil war to the hearts of those who heard that Hsiung K'eh-wu had returned to live in Chengtu. He is the deposed tuchun.

Also he is a dog fancier and has, among others, a huge Tibetan mastiff. Now General Liu Yu-kin, the present governor has a dove-cat that is famed far and wide for her skill in catching pigeons. Strangely enough, another ex-tuchun, is a pigeon fancier.

The proposition in case of hostilities then is: Turn the tuchun's cat loose on the pigeons instead of loosing soldiers against the people. Then when she has had her fill, let the mastiff attend to the cat. If any shooting is necessary by the soldiers, they can kill the dog and all will be merry and bright.

FIGHTING AGAIN

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—According to a Greek semi-official communique, hostilities have been resumed in Asia Minor.

The communique declares that twenty Turks were killed in a five hours fight, following a Greek attack on a post on the Eski-shehr front, and that six Turks were killed in a cavalry encounter on the Afiun Karahissa front.

FRANCE TO HAVE INSTRUCTION IN EUGENIC THEORY

Paris, Feb. 12.—Interest in France's repopulation problem is being aroused by efforts by some of the most prominent French doctors, lawyers and professors to compel the inclusion of instruction in eugenics in the curriculum of the secondary schools here. The principal newspapers of Paris are divided regarding the advisability of this step, the clerical element insisting that such wanton placarding of information, which has hitherto been considered almost sacred, would be proof that France no longer believes in the efficiency of Catholic precepts.

On the other hand some of the most important leaders of French thought insist that while it will be difficult to avoid turning some immature minds from moral thoughts, morality in France at the end of ten years will be immeasurably improved and there will be a tremendous increase in health and fewer "lefthanded" marriages.

Apparently the Ministry of Public Instruction is inclined to take this view, for a commission is already at work drafting a system of instruction, which will commence with boys at the age of nine years and girls at the age of eleven, in separate classes. It is possible that cinema films will be used in teaching more advanced students.

Paul Bourget, a noted French author, protests, however, that this system will not be of any moral benefit. He points out that students in the medical schools in the Latin Quarter, where they are constantly shown the evil effect of evil habits are just as subject to moral contamination as any other group. He insists it would be better to impress on children the importance of confession and communion and leave to the priests the duty of inculcating moral tenets.

Raymond Duncan, however, has other ideas on the subject. He insists that the world must begin to understand that the old system is all wrong and that youths must be taught the truth about the relations between mankind. Mr. Duncan has followed the example of the "Sovietised" Isadora Duncan and is urging bourgeois France to solve the child problem by bringing together the mothers of children who want to rid themselves of family burdens and women who yearn in vain for children.

"What strange ideas we have," says Duncan. "Here is a case of a mother being prosecuted in a police court for abandoning her child, while another would-be mother faces a prison term because she kidnaped an infant to satisfy her maternal longing. Why not do the logical thing and let such cases be settled between the mothers themselves in the best interests of humanity?"

LYON FAIR

TUAN CHI-JUI'S RESTORATION IS ASKED BY LABOR

Message Said To Be Signed By 150,000 Coolies In France Lauds Marshal

The restoration of Marshal Tuan Chi-jui to power was asked in a lengthy telegram said to have been despatched by 150,000 Chinese laborers who participated in France during the recent war.

The message pointed out that China's participation in world war, which gave her a status equal to other powers represented both at the Versailles and Washington Conferences was entirely due to the far-sightedness of the former. It also mentioned General Tuan's effort in the overthrow of both the Manchu dynasty and the monarchical movement of Chang Hsun, as merits deserving the most serious consideration of the people of the Republic.

The telegram maintains that Tuan is still respected by people at home and abroad and is best fitted to bring the North and the South together and frustrate the wily ambition and avarice of Japan.

The birthday of Tuan falls on today. A large number of Peking officials left Peking for Tientsin last night to offer their greetings, according to a Peking telegram last night.

OPIUM DELEGATE

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—Mr. Chu Chao-hsin, the Chinese Charge d'Affaires, has been appointed Chinese representative on the Opium Traffic Advisory Committee of the League of Nations, which will meet at Genoa in April.

LITTLE BODIES AND BIG PAINS.
TEETHING WITHOUT TEARS THROUGH BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

The misery and pain that many babies suffer through teething time is expressed eloquently enough in fits of pitiful crying, fever, refusal of food, and diarrhoea—or perhaps stipation. Baby's Own Tablets—guaranteed to contain no opiates and to be perfectly harmless—act like magic, relieve pain, comfort baby and give rest to the mother, while teething progresses without tears.

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are safe and pleasant for the youngest infant and the growing child. Besides being so helpful during the teething period they remove constipation, allay feverishness, cure colic, indigestion and worms.

Obtainable from chemists, also at 60 cents the vial, post free from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

NAVY "Y" SOON STARTS BUILDING ITS NEW HOME

Work on the new six-story building at the corner of Hongkong and Szechuen Roads, which will be the future home of the Navy Y.M.C.A. in Shanghai will be started within the next few days, according to announcement made by Mr. Paul W. Brown, executive secretary of the association, in making his annual report. The contract calls for the completion of the building within twelve months.

Estimated attendance at the Navy Y.M.C.A. during the year 1921 was 52,913, according to Mr. Brown's report. Of this number, 43,328 were American sailors, 200 American soldiers, 1360 American merchant seamen, 1600 British sailors, 1685 French sailors, 505 Italian sailors and 4235 civilians.

Ten thousand men slept in the building during the year. There were 9744 letters written, 3371 parcels checked, and 23,507 meals served in the restaurant. Tweny-one entertainments were held, with an attendance of 7830. There were 87 moving picture shows with an attendance of 5270 and 324 men were placed in homes for dinners. There were forty-one religious meetings held in the building, and forty-six on board ships.

Organisations co-operating with the Navy "Y" and furnishing at least one entertainment program a month are the American Woman's Club, the American Overseas League, the Community Church and the Minute Girls.

Insurance Co. Cited In Court

The China Mutual Life Insurance Company was cited as defendant yesterday in the British Supreme Court in a suit brought by the Ningpo Commercial Bank, who claim damages to the extent of Tls. 49,156 for breach of a covenant.

It is alleged that under a deed of mortgage made between the parties on July 21,1911 the defendants promised to advance to the Bank the sum of Tls. 200,000 on the security for the period and on the terms mentioned in the covenant. The Ningpo Commercial Bank demanded the specific performance of this covenant, or in the alternative damages amounting to Tls. 49,156 for its breach.

Mr. R. N. McLeod appeared for the Ningpo Commercial Bank and Mr. Duncan McNeil for the defendants. Mr. McNeil asked for pleadings, which Judge Peter Grain ordered.

Open Booking For Lipkowska Recital

Booking began yesterday at Moutrie's for the costume recitals to be given at the Olympic Theater on March 22 and 25 by Lydia Lipkowska, world-famed operatic singer, and Alexander Sklarevski, pianist. The concerts are under the direction of Mr. A. Strok.

FOOD FOR RUSSIA

(Reuter's Service)

Washington. March 7.—Mr. Hoover declares that in the past month 100,000 tons of American seed wheat and foodstuffs were unloaded in Black Sea ports, but that only 28,000 tons were transferred into the interior. Over 120,000 tons will be unloaded next month, but there is no indication of any increase in the capacity of the Russian railways to handle them.

Lodge Tells Three Parley Objectives Of U. S. Delegation

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 8.—Lodge told the Senate today that the termination of the Anglo Japanese alliance and the substitution of a new political system in the Pacific was actuated by peaceful motives and was the main purpose of the Four Power Treaty. He said that the American delegation had agreed that the Anglo-Japanese alliance was the most dangerous element in international relations in the Far East. "If the Quadruple Treaty is not ratified," he said, "it will shock and startle the world and disappoint the people of the United States."

Senator Lodge said that the three main objectives of the American delegation when they entered the Conference were the termination of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, the reduction of naval armament and competition, and the accomplishment of everything possible to aid China. He declared, "We succeeded in all these objectives. We propose the treaties at the conference and if we fail in these efforts to work out future peace, then there is a blot on the escutcheon of the United States for she has never yet permitted failure and defeat to be written in her history. We shall not permit it now."

Irregularities In Many Peking Loans, Commission Finds

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, March 6.—Mr. Tung Kang, newly appointed chairman of the commission to investigate foreign and domestic loans of the Chinese Government, is reported to have found many irregularities in the investigations he has made. At a cabinet meeting, Saturday, he submitted a memorandum setting forth the loans which he had found to be irregular with the suggestion that the president issue a mandate ordering the trial of all former ministers of finance, vice-ministers, and chiefs of the treasury and loan departments of the ministry.

Dr. Yen is reported to have said that the matter need not come up before the cabinet but should be taken directly to the president in the name of the loan commission. No decision on the question was reached but Mr. Tung is reported to be very active in his efforts to settle the question and bring the guilty parties to trial.

GERMAN PAYMENTS

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, March 7.—The Reparations Commission states that the total payments in cash, kind and cessions of state property by Germany since the armistice to December 31 1921 amounted to 6,487,856,000 gold marks, of which 1,041,409,000 were direct payments.

Acting Premier Wants Dr. Sze To Take Liang's Job

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, March 6.—It is reported once more that Dr. Yen wishes very definitely to resign both from the acting-premiership and from the ministry of foreign affairs. He is this time setting the expiration of Liang Shih-yi's third leave of absence as the date for his departure from political life.

He has urged the appointment of Dr. Alfred Sze as his successor in the post of Minister of Foreign Affairs and has himself telegraphed to Dr. Sze urging him to return to China as soon as possible.

Robbers To Die Even If Acquitted

Two Chinese who were charged with armed robbery in the Mixed Court yesterday before American Assessor Jacobs and Magistrate Loh face the certainty of death whether they are convicted or acquitted of the armed robbery charge.

The strange paradox of the two men awaiting certain death one way or the other comes of their being informers, who, after the men they informed against were sent to the Arsenal to be shot, were in turn charged with being members of the same gang of robbers. The men awaiting death in the Arsenal, in confessions made, implicated the two informers.

Detective Inspector Cruikshank and Detective Sergeant Robertson charged the men before American Assessor Jacobs and Magistrate Loh in the Mixed Court today on that information and also on confessions they are alleged to have made. The men, however, repudiated the alleged confessions in court, and through their attorney, Mr. Paul M. Linebarger, pleaded not guilty. The police asked for a remand to secure further evidence, and Mr. Linebarger asked that the charge be dismissed.

"It really doesn't matter," Detective Inspector Cruikshank said, "because whether they are held or released they'll be dead men in six months."

"That's true," Mr. Linebarger admitted. "The fifth member of the gang who has not been caught, will kill them for informing against him even if they are turned loose. They will die whether found guilty or innocent."

The case was remanded for one week, giving them one week more of life at least.

Lloyd George Puts Off Trip To Wales

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—Mr. Lloyd George presided at a Cabinet meeting at Downing Street this morning, which considered among other matters the proposal of a loan of £350,000 to Russia for famine relief purposes.

The Prime Minister was to leave for Criccieth tomorrow, to be absent for ten days, but he is still indisposed, and has deferred his departure for Wales until March 10.

Harmsworth Does Not Fear For Funds

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—A feature of the discussion in the House of Commons last evening on the supplementary estimate of the War office was the fear expressed by Labor members and others, that the money voted for the Russian refugees might be improperly used.

It was suggested that some of the money might find its way to General Wrangel, and the rumor that General Wrangel was mobilising refugees for the purpose of attacking Soviet Russia was mentioned.

Mr. Cecil Harmsworth described this rumor as a cock and bull story.

FAILURE TO SIGN PACTS WILL SHOCK WORLD—LODGE

Non-Ratification Will Nullify Limitation Agreement

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, March 8.—In the Senate today, Senator Lodge expressed gratification at the conclusion of the Four-Power Treaty, the main purpose of which was the termination of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance and the substitution of a political system actuated by peace in the Pacific. He declared that if the Treaty failed, the Naval Limitation Agreement would be endangered which would mean the failure of the Conference.

Senator Lodge also emphasised America's responsibility in calling the Conference and proposing the treaties and asked: "Is this country going to stumble on the threshold of its own undertaking and sink back to the sullen solitude of a hermit nation armed to the teeth and looking forward always to wars as inseparable from human existence?"

He reiterated his opinion that the treaty did not involve America in any obligation to have to consult the other signatories in the event of a controversy and averred that the Alliance had caused a growing feeling of suspicion in America that tended to give a background to Japan, thus encouraging the war spirit and preventing England from exercising her influence in the Far East in the interests of peace.

Senator Lodge further declared that the Treaty enabled England, Australia and New Zealand to participate in the terminating of the Alliance, the removal of which rendered an agreement on the reduction of armaments possible and concluded that the failure of the Naval Treaty would shock and startle the world and bitterly disappoint the American people.

Paris, March 9.—M. Sarraut, the head of the French Delegation to the Washington Conference, addressing the Navy and Foreign Affairs committees of the Senate yesterday, declared that the agreements had achieved the object of upholding the naval security of France and the French colonies, thus averting the immediate risk of war.

Premier Poincare pointed out that the agreements would be submitted to Parliament in due course.

The Minister of Marine mentioned that the new naval program would be drawn up as soon as the Washington agreements were ratified.

Washington, March 8.—President Harding today informed the Senate that the Nine-Power Treaty relating to China had completely superseded the Lansing-Ishii Agreement. The Four-Power Treaty did not refer to China and did not bear directly upon the Lansing-Ishii notes, which had no binding effect. The Nine-Power Treaty was the most formal declaration of the Executive's policy towards China.

Bottomley Gets Week Adjournment

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 8.—Mr. Horatio Bottomley, charged at Bow Street with the conversion of £5,000, the property of the Victory Bond Club, personally conducted his case and successfully applied for an adjournment, owing to contemporaneous proceedings in the High Court.

The prosecuting counsel contended, on the ground that the original circular invited subscriptions to the Victory Bond Club, that Mr. Bottomley was not entitled to draw a shilling out of the trust account for himself, yet from the beginning to the end £493,000 had been received and dealt with by Mr. Bottomley, which was not checked by any human being. There had been no trustees, and no auditors had ever been appointed.

Counsel alleged, that of the £20,000 from the trust account paid by Mr. Bottomley into his private account, £5,000 was for the purpose of keeping up his race horses at Ostend.

Mr. Bottomley interjected with "Rubbish."

Counsel intimated that there would be other charges.

The case was adjourned for one week.

Dr. Rawlinson Talks To Jewish Society

Religion as the cure for the present social unrest was stressed by Dr. Frank Rawlinson in an address on "The Jew in the Modern World," before the Jewish Literary Society Wednesday night. Rabbi Hirsch presided. Dr. Rawlinson traced the activities of Jews in the fields of politics, science and philosophy. Because of their international and worldly feeling, he said, Jews were a factor for peace and this was of great value to humanity at a time when the universal cry was for the establishment of a reign of brotherhood.

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation

March 9, 1922

Spot bar silver was down ⅛d. and forward ⅛d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 63½ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 436½.

The only changes in the official quotations here today were a rise in the Franc rate to 765 and in the Yen rate to 70. The market opened steady this morning, business at the opening in Sterling being done at between 3-2⅜ and 3-2⅞ for March and between 3-2⅝ and 3-2⅜ for April.

Gold Dollars at the opening were done at 70¾ for March and 70½ for April. Later on in the morning, however, rates firmed up, and as high as 3-3¼ in Sterling and 71½ in Gold Dollars was done for March.

Sterling was done at 3-3⅛ for April and Gold Dollars at 71¼ for the same delivery. In the early part of the afternoon, however, rates again eased off, at which time the market was uncertain, with sellers of Sterling at possibly 3-3 for March and 3-2⅞ for April.

At this time the best sellers of Gold Dollars were offering 71 for March and 70¾ for April. Late in the afternoon the market again firmed up and closed strong with sellers of Sterling at 3-3 for practically any delivery up to June.

There were Gold Dollar sellers at the close at 71 for March and 70¾ for forward. India sold a small amount of silver in London yesterday, and the market there is reported as being steady. New York report their market as being steady, particularly for near delivery.

Tramway Traffic Return For Week

| Loss by currency depreciation | 21,143.82 |
| Effective receipts | $39,573.73 |
| Percentage of loss by currency depreciation | 36.63 |
| Car miles run | 106,931 |
| Passengers carried | 2,158,725 |
| | 1921 |
| Gross receipts | $53,879.94 |
| Loss by currency depreciation | 16,001.35 |
| Effective receipts | $37,878.59 |
| Percentage of loss by currency depreciation | 31.04 |
| Car miles run | 98,814 |
| Passengers carried | 2,372,554 |

Freight Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows in their fortnightly freight market report of yesterday.

The condition of our export market to Europe and America remains unchanged and shows no signs of any improvement for the present.

TO UNITED KINGDOM AND CONTINENT

The Homeward Conference has reduced the rates on cereals to the basis of beans at 45s. 0d. and sesamum seeds at 50s. 0d. per ton of 20 cwt and it now remains to be seen whether cargo will be forth-coming at this reduction coupled with the weak exchange as previously reported.

COASTWISE

At last the seamen's strike in Hongkong is over and it is only natural that it should be followed by a strong demand for tonnage in all directions but owners are not in a position to meet requirements until the congestion in Hongkong is considerably reduced.

USE PATTONS SUN-PROOF PAINTS SOLE AGENTS THE FEARON, DANIEL COMPANY

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending Wednesday:

Exchange:—The London price of silver has ruled rather unsteady, the last rate advised 33⅛d. is 1d. higher than last week. Our rate for T.T. on London followed with a rise of 1d. to 3s. 1½d. Our market has been influenced by resales of Gold T.T. by our local gold dealers, with the usual strength these operations bring. Exchange business in connection with imports and exports has been small. We close with a firm market and based on speculative resales of Gold T.T. The banks offering 1d. over official quotations for sterling, and T.T. on America at 70¾.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 34,897,000, an increase of Tls. 1,311,000.

Chinese' and Mexican Dollars $29,180,000, an increase of $310,000.

Estimated value in Tls. 55,906,000 as against Tls. 66,406,000 held at this time last year.

Coal Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company ... as follows in their coal market of yesterday.

JAPAN COAL

No change has taken place in the situation of this market since last writing and the past fortnight has been very dull: as far as we can see at present there is little chance of any improvement setting in for some time to come.

FUSHUN COAL

No change.

FUCHUNG ANTHRACITE

No change.

KAIPING COAL

Fuchung Anthracite

Owing to the Hongkong strike many of the Administration's time chartered steamers have been sent here with the result somewhat large stocks have accumulated, but owing to the termination of the strike, coal in excess of the ordinary supply will be needed at Hongkong and a considerable falling off in imports will no doubt ensue.

The demand during the last two weeks has been active and fairly large deliveries are looked for during the coming weeks.

All prices were maintained.

KINGMAN & BROS.
How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis, esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers consist in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly.
(2) Filling with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

Thirty Thieves In Raid On Distillery Obtain 2100 Gallons

(China Press Service)

Frederick, March 8.—A gang of 30 robbers in automobiles and trucks overpowered the guards of a distillery warehouse at Burkittville near here and escaped with 2100 gallons of whiskey. The estimated value of the loot is $35,000. Liquor valued at $45,000 was stolen from the same warehouse last September.

AMERICAN MURDERED

(Special To The China Press)

Washington, March 8.—A dispatch comes from Mexico that Alexander Matherne, American, was murdered at Los Naranjos in the State of Vera Cruz on March 5th. His assailants have not been identified.

STOCK BROKERS FAIL

(China Press Service)

Montreal, March 7.—Dunn and Co., stock brokers, have failed. While not directly connected with the Wall Street failures, which now number more than two score, the general distrust of brokerage houses in the part of the investing public is believed responsible for this firm's suspension.

Crimean Famine Conditions Lead To Open Anarchy

(China Press Service)

London, March 8.—Advices from the Crimea state that the famine conditions there are becoming worse daily. Anarchy prevails and in several districts hunger stricken mobs are wrecking homes, shops and public buildings seeking food.

Convict Soldiers Whom Nicaragua Police Accused

(China Press Service)

Managua, Nicaragua, March 8.—Twenty six American soldiers have been convicted of engaging in a fight with the Nicaraguan police on December 8 in which three policemen were killed. The sentences ranged from twelve to eight years hard labor. The local sentiment against the American troops is very strong and it has been decided to replace the turbulent company.

Post-Conference Developments In Shantung

BY JOSEF W. HALL

As is generally known, the most desirable business and residence sites in Tsingtao, or, to speak in the language of the treaties, in the Chiaochow Leased Territory, long since passed into the hands of individual and corporate Japanese property-holders through title granted by the Japanese Civil Administration which has been operating as a subordinate of the military administration since 1918. From the outset it has been clear that China would have to recognise the validity of such titles.

Again, the Japanese administration condemned Chinese-owned land lying between the city and the north-eastern boundary of the leased territory, and leased same to Japanese subjects for the erection of a model Japanese settlement. Although the most prominent feature of this settlement still remains the licensed red-light district, numerous manufacturing and trading enterprises have been established therein by private Japanese capital. The Chinese government would like to have this land revert to the original Chinese owners, who claim that they were mulcted by forced sale. But the problem opened up by an attempt to procure reversion of title or even financial adjustment in favor of the former owners is so complicated that it manifestly cannot be attempted.

There remains still a third type of land to which Japanese individuals, heretofore with the encouragement of their administration, have attempted to establish title. This is the land which, at the time of the German occupation, became the property of the municipality—technically German crown land but devoted to the purpose of augmenting the municipal revenues. The most important tract of this type is the "spit"—the very tip of the promontory south of the city and harbor, which, since it is bounded upon three sides by deep water, has great potential value. Some years ago the Japanese administration staked off this tract in Japanese "tsubo" and leased it to subjects promising to erect substantial business buildings thereon at merely a nominal filing fee. Vehement protests against the attempt to settle Japanese upon this land were registered by the Chinese, officially and non-officially, and hints were received by Japan from her Allies to the effect that such a policy did not seem to accord with Japan's promises at Versailles.

The leases were never made permanent. The tract did not build up as fast as anticipated. The Chinese merchants of Shantung refused to establish and make prosperous the interloper in their port by buying and selling through it. When it became evident that Japan was giving up Tsingtao at the Washington Conference, the Tsingtao Administration announced that leasees could apply for purchase of the plots held by them, payment to be completed by the end of the Japanese fiscal year March 31. As the Conference progressed, the Administration shortened the period within which leasees were required to declare intention of purchase. Now the projected land sale has been cancelled altogether, under urgent instructions from Tokio. It would seem that the Chinese will not be compelled to see this land pass out of their sovereignty. For it must be remembered that under the provisions of consular jurisdiction, commonly known as "extraterritoriality," the property of an individual foreigner in China is as much beyond Chinese control as if it were located in Japan.

Tokio's gesture is one of good faith, and portends well. It would, indeed, have placed the Japanese government in a very false position had it allowed its consuls and lieutenants to perpetrate at this moment a coup which have made the Tsingtao foreshore preponderantly and irrevocably Japanese-possessed. Although, after its reversion to Chinese sovereignty, Tsingtao will still be a "Japanese" town, in the sense—much intensified—that certain townships in California are now "Japanese," yet China will regain the significant thing: the harbor, with its piers and godowns and customs. And if she shall prove capable of meeting the conditions necessary for redemption of the railway which loads and discharges at that harbor, her province of Shantung will be saved to her.

It is plain that the mines and like enterprises along the line of the railway which the Japanese have taken from the Germans or directly from the Chinese during their occupation will always be Japanese-controlled, even though the Chinese government or Chinese individuals be given a nominal half-interest therein. But these particular foreign-controlled enterprises need be no more prejudicial to Chinese sovereignty than the nominally Sino-British but really British Kailan Mining Administration holdings along the Chihli Gulf coast from Tientsin to the Manchurian border. Naturally, Chinese, aside from those directly profiting thereby, do not relish the presence of foreign vested interests, as extraneous elements in their body-politic, but unless caused to yield under force or bribery they are, as is well proved, clever enough to surround these alien objects with an insulation of passive resistance. In the far ultimate, if the Chinese preserve and strengthen their nationality, they will, of course, absorb them.

Plans for China's succession to Japanese privileges and responsibilities in Shantung proceed with all looked-for expedition. The Peking government has mandated Dr. C. T. Wang Director-General of the Commission for retrocessional affairs. Japan's appointment to the joint commission provided for in the Washington agreement has not yet been announced. Dr. Wang has announced the following policies with regard to the development of the properties and resources to be released by Japan: The Shantung Railway to be made a joint-stock enterprise of the people, under government supervision. Officials to be appointed in harmony with the evident desires of the majority of stockholders. The long-planned extensions of the railway to be executed without delay and lateral motor-roads to be constructed as feeders. The throwing open of the mine and salt-field enterprises to be operated jointly with the present Japanese holders to popular stock-subscription. Reformation and democratisation of the Tsingtao municipal administration which under the Japanese has been extravagant.

This is an ambitious program, however, not only Dr. Wang's but the nation's heart is set on its success, and we may reasonably hope that with this support Dr. Wang will be enabled to attempt it without tuchunal or mandarin interference. His good work at the Paris Peace Conference, where he was the Canton delegate, and his previous prominence among the younger class as National Secretary of the Chinese Y.M.C.A., have got for him popular trust in his integrity and conviction of his progressiveness. It may be remarked in passing that since his return from Versailles, during which interval he has avoided political and diplomatic life and has given himself to educational and commercial enterprise in Shanghai, he has gradually become alienated from the Canton leaders whose cause he once so staunchly supported.

The prominence with which another Y.M.C.A. leader, Mr. David Yui, who was an unofficial delegate sent by Shanghai patriotic organisations to the Washington Conference, is mentioned for the post of Director-General of the Shantung Railway, gives the progressive Christian element a large prospective place in the development of the retrieved province. This is causing some feeling among the militant Confucionist school (which is very small; but after all, Confucius was as good a Christian as lived in his day. British and American Christian missionaries were the first foreigners to take up the fight of the Shantungese to retain their province, so there is some justice in the situation. Of course, the matter is not one for religious difference, but for high patriotic and progressive zeal. If the Chinese fail to make good in Shantung the sympathy of the world may never again be theirs. From this standpoint, it may not be a mistake, as some regard, for Mr. Yui to leave his influential post of Christian leadership to direct a railway.

The popular campaign for a redemption fund of thirty million dollars for the Shantung railway proceeds, mainly under the impetus of student, educational and merchant bodies. It is taking on a more practical aspect. Realisation that the funds must not be collected in an irresponsible manner is growing. Popular elation or disappointment as well as foreign respect or derision, depend upon the type of men who will come to the head of the movement. At present the popular movement is in as great a state of flux as the government, and it is impossible to predict who will eventually prove the directing personalities. The three outstanding figures of the moment are Dr. W. W. Yen, Minister of Foreign Affairs and just now Acting Premier, Dr. C. T. Wang and Mr. David Yui, all Christians of the second generation, which, it would seem, is significant. The flare of popular hostility to the Shantung settlement appears to have died, and Dr. Yen seems vindicated.

Although the entire nation, and many foreign residents, influenced by repeated experiences of the past, are alert for evidence of bad faith on Japan's part, none is now apparent. A batch of China's best-trained police, from the metropolitan force, Peking, has just been despatched to Tsinanfu to take over the guarding of the railway, and the Japanese gendarmes who have been on this duty are making evident preparation to depart.

Japanese residents and smaller business men are somewhat apprehensive lest they suffer through the retrocession. They are banding together for protection, and have presented a petition to the military governor at Tsingtao, in which they demand that their privileges of operation of various natural resources of Shantung be not abridged and that their property and lives be safeguarded. They propose to appoint a delegate to sit on the joint commission which is to supervise the return to China of the leased territory, railway, mining and industrial concessions. Large Japanese interests will, of course, be protected by Tokio, but the smaller fry must inevitably suffer the curtailment of presumed privileges when their fellow-nationalists in uniform disappear from the scene.

SOME MORE SOCIAL SCRAPS

The reason, gentle reader, that you have to put up with this berhymed column lately is due to the fact that I have been reading Pope's "Essay on Man" again.

Those couplets of the little crippled poet of Twickenham get into the brain. He confessed to lisping in numbers 'and the numbers came." So it is with those who will read him.

Here I am reeling off "numbers" and probably making Alexander Pope swear in the world he went to so long ago. But it can't be helped. I have already written in the Pope vein about the Bund, its people, and its traffic. I may as well go ahead and discourse about other Social Scraps that make living in Shanghai interesting.

HUBBY'S HAVEN

When the glad shades of welcome night descend,
Down to the Club we all delight to wend,
To tear the juicy oyster from its shell;
And naughty tales (I blush to tell them) tell;
To quaff the foaming glass of bitter beer,
And other noxious drinks I sadly fear;
To puff the cigarette or strong cigar,
And lounge luxurious o'er that long, long bar;
In short, to live the life they lived before,
For ten brief minutes bachelors once more.
Then back again to meet the loving spouse
(This word means nought in matrimonial vows).
The matron heaps reproaches on his head,
And says the wishes she (or he?) were dead.
Reproaches fail, then tears, her last resource—
More potent far than any other force.
Nothing can stay a woman's tears unless
It be jewel, fur, or brand new dress.

SCANDAL

(It isn't only the tea table, the bridge party or the Mothers' Meeting where scandal is purveyed. You may hear it at the places where the strong, silent men relax).

The Goddess Scandal oft begins her sway,
A character but gives, to take away.
Her wily whispers pours in willing ears,
Gives mirth to some, to others bitter tears.
Like some small streamlet dashing down the hill,
And gathering strength from every tiny rill,
Till its low whisper blends into a roar,
And thousand echoes answer from the shore;
Now uncontrolled it dashes down the glen,
And fills with dread the hearts and homes of men:
Thus Scandal gathers strength from every side,
Each word, each action, swells the rising tide;
Each glance that flashes from a mortal's eyes
With every breath the bitter arrow flies,
Finds ready place within the human breast,
Gains strength from all, till with increasing zest
It strikes some harmless creature with its dart
And loads with grief some innocent young heart.

A love intrigue we greet with interest keen,
But then they come so very far between,
Divorce we love, that is, I mean to say,

Why Every One Sings "La Paloma" In Mexico

Whatever the faults of the people of Mexico, lack of appreciation of music cannot under any circumstances be included among them. All Mexicans can strum a guitar. All Mexicans know and appreciate good music. So impressed was the late Enrico Caruso with the discrimination of the average Mexican audience when he sang in Mexico City that he asserted in all sincerity that the artist who pleased an audience in Mexico had passed the acid test and could be warranted to please any audience anywhere.

Mexico's present Government recognises this aptitude in the populace and has done and is in process of doing many things to encourage the development of musical talent of a high order where it exists. Nor does it confine itself to the assistance of budding virtuosos but makes great effort to help the masses who must remain to the end appreciators, by providing them with music of the first rank. This subject is timely just now in view of the recently announced withdrawal of the subvention under which the Chicago Opera Company has been operating.

The attitude of the Mexican Government today like most good things in Mexico dates back to the regime of that iron man of the southern republic—Perfirio Diaz. Diaz realised the value of music as a cultural influence and he gave aid to rising artists and to opera and symphonic societies whose aim it was to furnish good music to the populace.

The man who carries on the tradition today is the Minister of the Interior, Adolpho de la Huerta. Not only is de la Huerta an ardent concert and opera goer, but he is himself a tenor of no mean attainments. De la Huerta was an intimate friend of Caruso and it was largely on account of this friendship that the peer of tenors was persuaded to sing below the Rio Grande.

The youngster in America who shows talent is compelled to depend on his family or on the patronage of some wealthy individual if he is to obtain the education necessary for the adequate development of his gift. In Mexico he finds waiting him a superbly equipped conservatory where tuition is gratis. The only qualification for admittance to this institution is some proof of the applicant's Mexican citizenship.

Not only are the rudiments taught here but all of the finer details of virtuosity as well. All instruments are taught from the most elementary stage up to the point where instruction in deportment on the concert stage becomes necessary. Voices are trained and cultivated according to the most modern and most widely accepted methods, and those pupils whose bent is composition find complete courses in harmony at their disposal.

From among the graduates the school authorities choose the most promising and send them abroad at the expense of the Government to complete their education. There are Mexicans in all the capitals of Europe today studying music in its several branches at the expense of their Government. In New York alone there are about fifteen Mexicans.

The one request the Government makes of these favored ones is that they return to teach a year or so in the conservatory, a service which the alumni perform proudly and eagerly. The school is justly popular, drawing throngs of students from all the states of the republic. At last report there were no less than five hundred enrolled.

Besides this, the Government does much to assist the dissemination of serious music. Orchestral societies are generously assisted. Sometimes, the Government will place at its disposal one of the many public concert halls; and, in the event of the engagement of a noted virtuoso, the Government will guarantee the payment of his fee. Each year the Government guarantees payment to the operatic companies that perform, no matter what the amount runs up to. Concerts in Mexico are not so numerous as they are in America, but in proportion to the general education and state of civilisation of the Mexican people the number is actually phenomenal.

Military and police bands perform regularly. Every large city and every State capital has its police or military band which gives concerts within the city limits and in the environs. Only recently the police band of Mexico City went up to Dallas where in competition with several American bands, it won first prize. The poor of Mexico City do not suffer for lack of opportunity to listen to good music. Prices at concerts and at the opera are always extremely moderate and in the event that they lack even the small sum charged

English University Women Are Invited To Form A Separate Institution

BY L. R. HOLME
(New York Times)

Should England follow in the steps of the United States and have definitely feminine universities on the lines of Vassar and Bryn Mawr, or are its women to be content with a share in the universities of Oxford and Cambridge and submit themselves to precisely the same education and examinations and as nearly as possible the same discipline as men? That is, in reality, the issue behind the recent fight over women's degrees at Cambridge.

The heads of Girton and Newnham Colleges and not a few of the dons in the men's colleges are entirely against a separate feminine institution, but the opposition to their recent plea for equal standing at Cambridge with men has gained a good deal of strength from the growing feeling that women students would be much better off if they had a first-class university, which could be adapted directly to their needs, and that the cause of education itself would be better served by trying the experiment of differentiation rather than continuing to insist upon the possibility and expediency of assimilation.

No one, of course, disputes that until a very short time ago the position of the women who had studied at Cambridge was anomalous, but like so many other British anomalies it was found, when examined, to have a certain amount of common sense behind it. The students of Newnham and Girton attended the same or equivalent lectures as the men, they sat for the same examinations and they observed the same regulations as regards residence, and yet when they had fulfilled all the requirements of the university they were not permitted to take degrees.

It was clearly an injustice and it was in addition a hardship. It was not merely a matter of the right of these women, who had done so well, to put a few letters after their names or to wear on special occasions becoming hoods. It was in not a few cases an actual matter of dollars and cents. The fact that the Girton or Newnham graduate had not a degree ought not to have made any difference to them in applying for posts for which their educational attainments undoubtedly qualified them, but, as a matter of fact, it was proved that people who should have known better in making appointments would sometimes pass a Cambridge woman over in favor of a graduate from some other university, merely because she had no titular degree.

WOMEN ACHIEVE HIGH RANK

If there had been any question as to the standard attained by Cambridge women, the anomaly would have been more easily explained, but there was none. A Girton woman has been the senior classic of her year; a Newnham girl has been "above the senior wrangler" in the stiffest mathematical examination, and scores of them have been in the first class in the final tests. Women's colleges, too, have been just as successful in developing a full college life as have Trinity or Pembroke, and they have just as good a right to claim that they place upon their graduates that definite stamp upon which the Cambridge man puts so high a value.

It is impossible to contend that in their half century of life they have not made good from the purely academical standpoint, and this makes it all the more difficult to understand the persistency of the resistance to their claims. The explanation lies in one of the chief matters which differentiate between Oxford and Cambridge on the one hand and American universities and the newer seats of learning in Great Britain on the other. Oxford and Cambridge are far more democratic. Cambridge, for example, has no Board of Trustees or Governors, distinct from the teaching staff and endowed with autocratic powers; it has no President, to lay down lines of policy; it is under the direct control of its graduates, and all who have attained the degree of Master of Arts can become members of the Senate, and so have a direct voice in the appointment of the various councils, syndicates and officials by whom the actual administration is carried on.

Consequently, if the women had been admitted to degrees on exactly the same basis as men they would also have been admitted to a share in the management of the university and would have received the power to propose changes in the interests of women. It was to avoid this that Cambridge, when agreeing a few weeks ago to grant its Newnham and Girton graduates the degrees they had earned, laid it down distinctly that the degrees were to be merely titular and were not to carry with them membership in the university or a vote in the Senate. It was a compromise, which it should be noted Oxford refused when it gave its women a few months ago complete equality with the men, and it has brought down on Cambridge the gibes of all the advanced feminists of England.

It was, it is declared, a despairing attempt of reactionary fossils to stem the advancing current of the times. It showed, it has been asserted, a most extraordinary fear of what a few women could accomplish, and an explanation has been asked of what these revolutionary changes that are so much feared might be.

The majority at Cambridge replies that if indeed the modifications of the curriculum that the women would work are small, it is Newnham and Girton and not the University of Cambridge which has a short vision. Women ought to have a system of education of their own and now is the time to set about its development. Fifty years ago, when women students first appeared at the universities, it was perhaps necessary to urge that what a man could do a woman could do, but experience has shown since that, when a woman does a man's work she insists on doing it in a way of her own. So arguments founded on the power of women to equal men in the examination hall are interesting only in their crudity, and entirely miss the important facts of the case.

SEPARATE UNIVERSITIES

So they suggest that Newnham and Girton be pioneers once again. Let them set to work to build up a separate women's university and Cambridge will assist them, but let them desist from their efforts to get a share in the management of an essentially men's institution, and risk endangering its efficiency for its own particular work by the introduction of changes, which women may justly claim for their own advantage.

It would be rash to prophesy that a woman's university will be the outcome of the controversy. The most prominent women at Cambridge are so far opposed to it, and have not scrupled to threaten the men with an appeal to a Government commission, which is now inquiring into British universities. There is a real chance that for the sake of State aid Cambridge may be forced to accept a policy which its graduates have deliberately rejected; but there are certain factors in the situation which may yet result in a woman's university being formed.

All education in England is today in the melting pot. The universities are crowded, and there is a notable increase in the number of women taking college courses not only among those prepared to take the more advanced subjects, for whom Girton and Newnham at present alone have catered, but also among the mass of girls who believe in going on with their studies, even if they can never aspire to high honors. The men, moreover, are asking that the old traditional teaching should be expanded to meet modern needs, and there is likely in the next few years to be an extraordinary broadening in the number and character of the subjects taught.

So Cambridge women may find that there are new practical arguments against them, if they renew their demands. They may be told that as a matter of fact they are not looking after all the women for whom a college education would be good, and that they are helping to overcrowd lecture-rooms and laboratories, which are already too small to accommodate all the men for whom they were built. Their one undoubted grievance, having been removed, can no longer be a lever to get them full membership in the university, and they will be urged to agree to the development of a new institution of their own, parallel to, but not part of, Cambridge University. It would be a most interesting experiment and might result in great good to the cause of education in general, and the chance of entering on it will be watched closely by some of the best friends of the feminist movement.

Why Every One Sings "La Paloma" In Mexico

for admission, they can stroll out to a park and listen to a band concert.

The average Mexican is born with a good ear and invariably he possesses a guitar which he has learned to play without formal instruction, and frequently without instruction of any kind. Everywhere opportunity to listen to music awaits him. The poorest cafe has its pair of fiddlers and a pianist who play for him while he sips his "cafe con leche." The larger cafes have lists of pieces scattered about the tables from which the patrons are at liberty to select their favorite and suggest its rendition to the orchestra leader.

Combined with the Mexican's love for the classical in music is the fondness for the snap and jingle of American jazz music. At one time Parisian airs were the great vogue but from the north came the staccato of ragtime and the sweety-sweet of sentimental ballads and utterly displaced the French in the Mexican heart. In the cafes and cabarets American music is the predominating note. Many of the more popular songs have been translated and are sung far and near in the streets of the capital. Several of the lighter of the modern Mexican composers have taken to aping the Americans and have produced creditable ragtime marked with a slight Mexican accent.

Music composition is not as far advanced in Mexico as it might be. The more enlightened are seeking their inspiration in the folk songs, the simple old tunes of the Mexico peons. These are frequently heard in concert halls in Mexico, either as they are sung in the hills or as they have been arranged. Recently, Henry H. Holder, a young Mexican of Scandinavian descent, rendered several of these songs on the piano for a New York audience with marked success. Still another Mexican, Rosendo Serna, a tenor, has been able to please sophisticated audiences in this city with the songs of the peons.

Foochow Notes

(China Press Correspondence)

A wave of sadness swept over the foreign community here in Foochow on the morning of the 3rd when it was learned that David, the little son of Consul Ernest B. Price and Mrs. Price had fallen from the second story window of the American Consulate and was lying unconscious. Doctors were immediately summoned and everything possible was done to preserve the little life, but all efforts proved unavailable and the spirit took its departure about ten o'clock in the evening. The services were held at the American Consulate Sunday morning and the little body laid to rest in the American Cemetery. Consul and Mrs. Price have the sincerest sympathy of their many friends here in this port.

Rev. Harry Worley and family, missionaries of the Methodist Mission, have returned from furlough and Mr. Worley will take up work in the Union School of Theology. Mr. Charles F. Taylor has also arrived to help in the Fuklen Construction Bureau as Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiant are to leave on furlough in a few weeks. Doctor Gossard and family are leaving for a furlough. He will spend some time in Europe and take a course of instruction in tropical diseases.

The lumber section of the port was again visited by another large fire which took place on the first of this month. The fire originated in a Japanese paint shop and spread rapidly among the piles of dry lumber. About dark it was supposed that the fire was under control, but it loomed up again about ten o'clock, and caught many people unaware, so much so that many people lost their lives in the fire. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of the finest lumber swept away and nearly the entire fortunates of many persons were swept away.

Confucius's birthday was remembered with the usual elaborate ceremonies and in connection therewith Mr. Guok, one of the leading gentry of the city, celebrated the Sixtieth Anniversary of the time when he took the First Degree. His celebration was in the school buildings adjoining the Confucian Temple. A very large company of the officials, gentry, friends, and students assembled to do honor to Mr. Guok, and their testimonies, which consisted of many scrolls beautifully adorned the walls of the school buildings. Governor Li, the American Consul, and others made addresses and at the close a poem, composed for the occasion, was read and greatly appreciated. Light refreshments were served and the young people who went to the celebration armed with kodaks shot Mr. Guok before and behind. It was an enjoyable time for all especially for Mr. Guok who appears to really enjoy the occasion.
